6th Mineral Sciences in the Carpathians Conference

Invitation

Our aim is to offer, for the sixth time, a stable and suitable meeting point for specialists in broad sense mineral sciences of the Central- and Eastern-European Region. We also welcome colleagues from outside of this region, promoting a wide-ranged European and worldwide scientific collaboration. We firmly believe that this conference, just like the previous ones in Miskolc, will initiate new joint research projects and new educational cooperations in the near future.

Scientific programme

The scientific programme is planned to cover mineralogy, crystallography, petrology, geochemistry, mineral deposits and their applications (e.g. environmental, industrial, archeological) in the Central- and Eastern-European Region. An Open Session will also be organised for those who would like to present their results in the scientific area, but not connecting geographically. Contributions will be presented in oral and poster sessions. Plenary lectures on special topics will be presented at the conference, details will be communicated in the Second Circular.

Abstracts

You are invited to submit papers in the field of the scientific programme. The abstracts are planned to be published in the Acta Mineralogica-Petrographica Abstract Series, Szeged. Further details are available at mscc2015.hu.
