

Invitation

Budapest welcomes the opportunity to host the 11th International Symposium on Communication Systems, Networks, and Digital Signal Processing.

The aim of CSNDSP 2018 is to serve as a forum for the exchange of ideas among engineers, scientists and young researchers from all over the world on advances in communication systems, communications networks and digital signal processing and to provide a focus for future research and developments.

Budapest is a city of water and spas, rendered magical by the Danube River connecting the nations and people of Europe. Hilly landscapes, long history, pleasant climate, rich cultural events, and music prove that the city is indeed a pearl of the Danube. An excellent venue in a peaceful environment and conference hotels are awaiting the guests. Budapest is one of the nicest cities in Europe, easy to reach, and famous for its hospitality, fine food, tasty drinks, and many historical and cultural sites of interest.

We wish you a pleasant and fruitful stay in Budapest during the conference.

The Hungarian Organising Committee

Main topics

- Communications Systems and Theory
- DSP
- Communications Protocols
- Networks & Network Management
- Photonics
- Wireless Networks
- Special Topic

The full list of our topics is available at the official website:

<http://csndsp2018.com>

Important dates

Full Paper (for review) due
12 February 2018

Notification of acceptance starts 15 April 2018

Camera ready paper
ends 20 May 2018

Local Organising Committee

- Eszter Udvary
- Zsolt Kollár
- Barna Csuka
- Lajos Nagy
- Gergely Mészáros
- Zoltán Szalay

Steering Committee

- Prof. Z. Ghassemlooy
Northumbria University, UK
Chairman
- Prof. Anthony C. Boucouvalas
University of Peloponnese, Tripoli, Greece
- Prof. R. A. Carrasco
Newcastle University, UK
- Prof. E. Leitgeb
Graz University of Technology, Austria
- Prof. M. D. Logothetis
University of Patras, Greece
- Dr. Wai Pang Ng
Northumbria University, UK
- Prof. Stanislav Zvanovec
Czech Technical University in Prague,
Czech Republic

Organised by:

For further information please visit
<http://csndsp2018.com>